Annex II Development Prioritization Model

The following sections shall to the Enterprise and Distributor Plan:

1.1. Future Functionality. Platform functionality and new features implemented by AppXite are not exclusive for Partner and therefore are generally available to other partners. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for the Subscription Term Partner may submit its recommendations with respect to platform development to AppXite and/or request AppXite to develop additional functionality or build custom components ("Additional Functionality"). AppXite will consider such request in a good faith and provide the Partner with an estimated timeline for implementation.

Additional Functionality will be developed in accordance with the following process:

- a) Partner submits a request for Additional Functionality specifying the business requirement and purpose;
- b) Based on the Partner's requirements, Parties agree and create one or more User Stories which describe the details of the implementation project;
- c) AppXite assigns a monetary value to such User Story (value is determined based on the time and material basis, i.e. number of development hours required to complete a User Story) and sends a quote to the Partner. Partner shall be provided an opportunity to review and accept a quote. Parties agree that quote can be sent and accepted by electronic mail;
- d) Parties assign a priority level for completing a User Story according to the sub-section 1.2. of this Annex. If no priority is assigned, AppXite will, at its own discretion determine the deadline for completion according to AppXite's then-current development roadmap.

1.2. Development Prioritization. Partner is entitled to assign a priority level to any User Story which has been accepted by AppXite. AppXite shall be reimbursed for the percentage of the monetary value of the User Story according to the following models:

Model No.1. Development of non-exclusive items.

Non-exclusive items are deemed general improvements of the platform which are generally available to the other customers and partners of AppXite. Non-Exclusive items are of general nature and must not contain requirements that are specific to Partner, its Sellers, or Customers.

Sprints & Applicable Fee
		1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Priority	1	50%	50%	25%
	2				25%	12.5%
	3						12.5%	6.25%	3.125%

Example

- Partner requests item "Ability to download an invoice in pdf format." to be assigned priority 1.
- Parties have accepted the relevant User Story(s) and starting from the next Sprint AppXite has a deadline of 4 weeks (2 sprints) to complete the item.
- The value of the item is (as an example) 5000 EUR.

Scenarios

- If AppXite succeeds to complete this item within 1-2 sprints, AppXite charges Partner for 50% of the User Story value, i.e. 2500 EUR.
- If AppXite fails to deliver within 2 next sprints, however, completes the item within the 3rd sprint, AppXite charges Partner for 25% of the User Story value, i.e. 1250 EUR.

Model No.2. Development of Custom Items.

Custom items are deemed as the items which contain requirements that are specific to Partner, its Sellers, or Customers and not designed for any other party than Partner.

Sprints & Applicable Fee
		1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Priority	1	100%	100%	50%	0%
	2				50%	25%
	3						25%	12.5%	6.25%

1.3. Prioritization is subject to the following conditions:

- a) Parties agree that the total value of User Stories prioritized within one month cannot exceed the 25% of the monthly platform fee paid to AppXite;
- b) Priority is assigned by notifying AppXite at least 1 week prior to the beginning of a new sprint;
- c) Prioritization commences from the next sprint;
- d) Added User Stories will not fall within the same priority deadline. Priorities and their respective deadlines are assigned to each User Story separately. Therefore, if a new User Story has been added in the middle of the sprint, prioritization will commence from the beginning of the next sprint;
- e) In the event that User Story contains elements that are both of general nature (Model No.1) and Partner specific (model No.2.) the fees with respect to these elements will be calculated according to both models.

Example

User Story with regards to "Ability to download and invoice in pdf format." is deemed to be a general improvement and thereby falls under Model No.1. However, if the Partner is willing to add specific categories within an invoice or alter the format of the invoice, prioritization of such specific development will be made according to Model No.2.
